Salvation By Candlelight

The last 2 months have been full of exciting things here in Panguipulli, CHILE. Unfortunately we have gotten in the very bad habit of sending our prayer letters towards the end of the month. So we are sending you a dual update, and attempt to begin sending our updates in the first week of the month as we have done previously.

May was filled with events for the whole church. Beams Bibles are being sent monthly, it is a joy for our ministry to be able to distribute them. Mother's Day was celebrated with waiting hot coffee, corn bread and a Chocolate candy bar for each mother, as well as a small gift for those oldest, youngest ect. Mother. We held a Men's Beast Feast (geared to getting men who we been witnessing to over the last year). There were 6 visitors 3 of which got saved! With two new babies in the church we spaced out the other Baby Shower 4 visitors came that, who got to hear the gospel and a lesson on raising your child for God. Best of all in the begging of May we reached our 100th Visitor in the church and had 25 visitors for the month.

June began with Lili's birthday, who unfortunately woke up with chickenpox, but still enjoyed her day. Two weeks later she lost her first tooth just the day after my 29th birthday. Within this week I was able to install a baptistery with inviting warm water to help our converts to be able to take their first step of obedience. The following Sunday our first soulwinner from Panguipulli got baptized and joined as a member. We celebrated Fathers' Day by giving every dad a bottle of Coke (Pop -4- Pop's) they guys were ecstatic.

June has left us with several exciting soulwinning stories. Gladys (a lady that lives far out in the campo) came to our house conducting a census for the Chilean government. After we finished answering her questions, we gave her our survey about salvation, after which she accepted Christ.

One of our members found a friend of his who was drunk and brought him to the church after one of the services. Because he was not fully in his right mind, we scheduled to visit him at his home the following day. He was not there, but his wife was and she happily accepted her salvation. The whole family came to the church the following service, where the husband prayed to receive Christ.

One of our most faithful church ladies had her oldest son and his family visiting. When I stopped by to visit her, I was able to talk to them about what we believe about salvation. (Mean while Lili was at home praying before she began her school work, that I would come home with a story of some people being saved.) After some time discussing the subject, all three of them decided to accept forgiveness for their sins. What a surprise to Lili, her prayer had been answered, and for me to know she was praying at just the time I needed it most.

Let's just say, these last 2 months have been very rewarding as we have seen 4 baptized, 3 new members, 34 saved, and 33 visitors in the church. Your prayers and support are at work!
